2021 Montréal Alcohol School Postponed

Although the situation with the global pandemic is starting to improve, it still is a significant concern in certain parts of the world. Because of this, along with ongoing health concerns related to the spread of the coronavirus disease (COVID-19), we feel that the Alcohol School in Montréal, Canada must be postponed. While everything has not gone as we have planned over the past year, we are certainly ready and excited to be hosting the school again next September 11–16, 2022 in Montréal.

The Ethanol Technology Institute and Lallemand Biofuels & Distilled Spirits leadership has been closely monitoring the spread of COVID-19, as well as listening to advice from the World Health Organization (WHO), U.S. Center for Disease Control (CDC), and the Canadian government regarding risks associated with international conferences and other large gatherings in enclosed spaces. Our decision to postpone the school was based on the desire to ensure that everyone who wants to attend has the opportunity to do so. Additionally, this is based on a deep concern for the health and well-being of our registrants and staff. We recognize many of you will be disappointed by this news, and we share in your frustration.

We want to provide a worthwhile experience at the conference by featuring the most renowned speakers related to each topic presented at the school. Looking to 2022 as a promising year for international travel, we have high hopes that industry experts from all over the world will be able to attend to share their expertise. With this in mind, we will still host the school scheduled for April 3–8, 2022 in Vienna, Austria, and we hope you will consider attending this school in place of the 2021 Montréal event. We are excited and ready to get back to the world of in person conferences, furthering our educational platform and networking with our customers and colleagues again.

We cannot thank you enough for your understanding, support, and well wishes during a difficult time for all. We extend our heartfelt wishes that you and your families remain in good health, and we look forward to seeing everyone in 2022.

Will my registration fee for the school be refunded?

We intend on rolling over all registrations for 2021 to the school occurring in 2022. However, if you would like a full refund immediately, please contact Liz Ward at lward@lallemand.com to get the process started.

Other questions or concerns?
